Return Reference	Explanation
II 9	- The reported easement was assigned for ten dollars to the university concurrent with acquisition of the property to which it applies. As such, it is not reported separately in the university's revenue and expense statement, balance sheet or the footnotes to the financial statements
III 1a	- Collections - In addition to the Mildred Lane Kemper Art Museum, the university archives rare book collections, works of art, literary works, historical treasures and artifacts. These collections are protected and preserved for public exhibition, education, research and the furtherance of public service. They are neither disposed of for financial gain nor encumbered in any manner. Accordingly, such collections are not recognized or capitalized for financial statement purposes
III 4	- The Mildred Lane Kemper Art Museum dates back to 1881 with the founding of the St. Louis School and Museum of Fine Arts at Washington University. Its collection was formed in large part by acquiring significant works by artists of the time, a legacy that continues today. Now one of the finest university collections in the United States, the Museum contains strong holdings of 19th-, 20th-, and 21st-century European and American paintings, sculptures, prints, installations, and photographs. The collection also includes some Egyptian and Greek antiquities and more than 100 Old Master prints
III 4	- contd The Museum is committed to preserving and developing its art collection and continuing its legacy of collecting significant art of the time, providing excellence in art historical scholarship, education, and exhibition, inspiring social and intellectual inquiry into the connection between art and contemporary life and engaging audiences on campus, in the local community, across the nation and worldwide. In addition to the Museum, the Libraries Department of Special Collections archives rare book collections, works of art, literary works, archival collections, historical treasures and artifacts. These collections are protected and preserved for public exhibition, education research and the furtherance of public service
V 4	- Washington University's endowment is an important financial resource that provides a meaningful source of revenue for university programs and operations. This enduring support for purposes as designated by donors, including scholarships, professorships, research efforts, libraries and capital projects, enables the university to attract and retain outstanding faculty and students
X 2	- The university is exempt from federal income taxes under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code except to the extent the university has unrelated business income. There was no provision for income taxes due on unrelated business income in the current year. The university has no uncertain tax positions that result in material unrecognized tax expense/benefits
XI 2d	- Changes and reclassification of Split-interest agreements 1,771,000

Return Reference	Explanation
Part I Line 2	- The University maintains a formal policy defining its procedures for monitoring the use of sponsored funds by subrecipients who are performing a portion of a sponsored project externally awarded to the University. The policy provides guidance to ensure that subrecipients conduct their portions of a sponsored project in compliance with laws, regulations and terms and conditions of awards and subawards and that reimbursed costs incurred by subrecipients are allowed. The policy addresses the roles and responsibilities of the central offices and academic departments of the University and describes the monitoring procedures for each area. The full text of the University's Subrecipient Policy is available online at the following web address http://spa.wustl.edu/
Part III Line 1	- The grants reported in Part III line 1 are scholarships to students. The use of scholarships is controlled by applying such amounts directly against balances owed by the student for tuition, fees and other qualifying educational expenses.
Part III Line 2	- The grants reported in Part III line 2 are fellowships awarded to students who may use them to pay qualified educational expenses or to support their living expenses while completing their course of study. The use of fellowship awards is not monitored by the University however an award is discontinued if the recipient student discontinues his/her course of study.
Part III Line 3	- Prizes and awards reported in Part III Line 3 are awarded to students for, among other reasons, academic excellence, writing competitions, design competitions, research and service to the local community and other students.

The auditors review is thorough and provides sufficient assurance for them to sign as paid preparers. The return is then reviewed by the University's Controller who signs the return and its CFO. It is then reviewed with the University's Board of Trustees Audit Committee. Following their review, the final return is made available to the full Board. All reviews take place prior to filing the return.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c	- The University regularly monitors and enforces compliance with its conflict of interest policies COI Policies, which include the Policy on Institutional Conflict of Interest, Research Conflicts of Interest Policy and the Policy on Conflicts of Interest in Clinical Care. Each of the foregoing COI Policies established a dedicated committee, comprised of faculty and staff, to assess the financial relationships of faculty and determine whether a COI exists and a management plan warranted. Faculty involved in research are required to disclose annually their financial interests or within 30 days of a new financial relationship. The financial disclosures are circulated to the three COI committees for COI evaluation. The Research COI and the Institutional COI committees regularly monitor faculty compliance with their management plans. If the committees determine that a faculty member is not in compliance with a management plan, the matter is investigated by the committees and appropriate action taken. The University Compliance Office annually audits clinical faculty members compliance with management plans imposed by the Clinical COI committee. Any noncompliance is addressed and remediated by the faculty members department.

Return Reference	Explanation
Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c	- contd Disclosures by staff employees are made to their immediate supervisors. Disclosures by officers and Deans are made to the Chancellor for resolution, and the Chancellor reports on those and his own disclosures to the Chair of the Board. The Board of Trustees has approved a separate conflict of interest policy applicable to its members. Under that policy, members of the Board are required to make annual disclosure of existing or prospective matters that reasonably create an actual or potential conflict of interest involving the University including 50 or more affiliated entities and the member including certain affiliated business entities and family members. With certain limited exceptions, that policy further requires a member to be excused from participation in or vote on a matter with respect to which she/he has a conflict of interest.
